SET-A SPLENDID RACE AND AN EXCITING TIME-INVOICE AHEAD. The correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Saratoga and describing the races of Thursday, says: The third race was for a purse of $600 maldens allowed, if four years old or under 5 pounds; if five or upwards, 7 pounds the distance one mile and five furlongs. For this event three came to the post, comprising Thomas W. Doswell's bay mare Invoice, by Lexington, dam Volga, four years old, car-rying 108 pounds; D. McDaniel's chestnut colt Big Sandy, by Australian, dam Geneura, four years old, 118 pounds; and James A. Grinstead's chestnut colt St. Martins, by Phaeton, dam Tokay, four years old, 118 pounds. The latter was the favorite at long odds. Big Sandy second choice, very few fancying Invoice until just before the start. when her admirers canfe to the front and backed her gamely. She acted in her usual nervous manner when at the post, rearing up and falling over on Bob Swim, her jockey. The latter was soon on her back, being not much hurt, fortunately. She, to the surprise of every one, won the race, St. Martins second, Big Sandy a poor third. The betting was as follows:

 St. Martins
 500

 Big Sandy
 500
 400

 Invoice
 465

THE RACE. Big Sandy rushed to the front and cut out the work, making it sharp from the first voice bringing up the rear. When the horses ran out of the shute at the half-mile pole Big Sandy was leading two lengths, St. Martins second, two lengths in front of the mare. There was no change of place or position down the lower turn, but coming up the quarter-stretch St. Martins closed up the daylight between him and Big Sandy, while Invoice did not move until she passed 1:07½. Going around the upper turn Invoice ran up to St. Martins, and as the horses passed the quarter pole Big Sandy led one length, St. Martins second, one length in front of Invoice, and she appeared to be running at her ease, which made many of the backers of the favorite begin to feel nervous, as Invoice ran close to the others down the back stretch.

ON THE WAY DOWN. St. Martins closed on Big Sandy on the way down, and at the half-mile pole the latter had only his head and shoulders in front, St. Martins a length in front of Invoice. Going around the lower turn the horses were racing at their best, and before they reached the three-quarter pole St. Martins had taken sides with Big Sandy, the mare only a length behind and looking more dangerous than before. Getting well into the homestretch, St. Martins broke away, and was soon leading Big Sandy a length but before his backers had a chance to exult much, Invoice came with a rush, and in a very short time she was parallel with the son of Phaeton and Tokay. Another moment and Barbee was plying the whip vigorously to St. Martins, but, notwithstanding all this persuation, Invoice passed him and won the race by a length in 2.574, which was very excellent time. St. Martins made a most capital race, and although beaten, it voice had to help her out. Big Sandy was beaten half a dozen lengths by St. Martins. The last mile was run in 1.49%.

brought up for sentence they were inclined to be pathetic. Mr. Joseph Aspinall, who has for some time paraded his style-his carriages and horses-in the vicinity of his country mansion, turned out to be a very wretched and poor person, whom the wideeyed boys lately gazing on his splendor could not envy. Mr. Aspinall pleaded that he was fifty-four years of age, with a wife and twelve children; had carried on bus'the stand. The five furlongs were run in ness irreproachably for thirty-nine years; was now ruined; and his aged parents, whom he had hitherto supported, would have to go to the work-house, while he himself had lately been living on the charity of his friends. He brought medical certificates to show that he is suffering from two dangerous diseases. He denied fraudulent intention, and submitted himself to the mercy of the court.

PITIFUL EXCUSES. Mr. Whyte detailed that he had lost a valuable position as manager of a coal mine, which he had held for twenty years, and did not mean to advance his personal interests by the fraud. Mr. Knocker said he was not aware of the fraud; had suffered frightfully; had lost his income of £1,400 a year as general manager of the Midland Bank, and his wife and five children were now destitute. Dr. Muir also professed to have been ignorant of what was going on, and he, too, was ruined. The counsel for these miserable men urged in mitigation of judgment that what they had done had been done before on the Stock Exchange with impunity; but the suggestion was not a happy one, the Lord Chief-Justice dryly remarking that "it was quite true," and adding a hint that it was fully time that it should be made certain that it could not safely be tried again. 'Mr. was only by the maiden allowance that In- Justice Blackburn, the senior puisne judge, then pronounced the sentences.

He began by saying that the indictable conspiracy proved against them before a jury was punishable by imprisonment and fine, or by either alone, at discretion of the Court; but they had come to the conclusion that a fine would not be proper in this case, because such operations were generally carried on for large sums of money by men whom ordinary fines would not deter; that since they had all declared themselves destitute, to fine them, with imprisonment until he fines were paid, might involve an immense extension of their imprisonment. It is to be hoped that amid the excitements of a swelling canvass Americans will not fail to observe the picturesque fact this country offers to their observation, of four of the most prominent city men of London locked up in prison. The wealthy and distinguished gentlemen in question foisted a fraudulent company on the public, and alwing no starry banner under which to shelter themselves, are taking the prosaic consequences. They conspired by a false quotation, based on repeated deposits of the same sum of money in a bank, summed up to seem like capital, to get the shares of the Eupion Gas Company on the Stock Exchange, so fraudulently evading the rules laid down for the protection of the public, and they have lost the stake and the reputation with it. The judges hesitated. A good many people could not believe that such highly respectable and well-connected grantemen could be incarcerated like vulgar rielons, and anticipated the infliction of fines.

MOUNT DE CHANTAL ACADEMY OF THE VISITATION. NEAR WHEELING, W. VA.

Parents in quest of a first-class school for their daughters will do well to investigate the claims of this celebrated Academy. For thoroughness in every department of female education MOUNT DE-CHANTAL ranks pre-eminently high. Great attention is given to perfect the pupils in writing and speaking French with fluency. For those sufficiently advanced it is the language of their recreation hours. The pority of accent and correctness of promunciation acquired in this institution have long been a subject of surprise to the native Parisian. The renown for the superiority in music is so widespread as to have made this Academy almost a ustional one. One feature in particular that should recommend MOUNT DE CHANTAL to the sensible parent is the influence exercised to form the pupils to views and habits of economy, and to render them really practical and useful women of society in after years. Simplicity of dress is enforced by rule.

These facts, united to the exceedingly moderate rates of board and tuition ($200 per annum), will, we trust, secure to this school as large and desirable a patronage in the future as it has enjoyed in the past.

It is the strongest chalybeate in the United States. In addition to the water the location, pure and exhilerating atmosphere, picturesque scenery, fine walks, drives, hunting, fishing, &c., all tend to make Rawley the most attractive as well as the most healthful resort in Virginia. The company has at great expense erected the most commodious and comfortable buildings in the State, and during the past winter completed a perfect system of terracing and underdraining.
